

The Teaching and Creativity Center invites you to the

2018 Teaching & Learning Conference

Micromessaging to Reach and Teach Every Student

Sponsored through a partnership between the Teaching and Creativity Center, the Carl D. Perkins Career and Technical Education grant, and the Economic Development and Innovative Workforce Services Division, we welcome representatives from the National Alliance for Partnerships in Equity (NAPE) who will present research-based strategies to improve communication between students and faculty, advisors, mentors, and employers by exploring unconscious bias.
