

MCC's 42nd Annual

Writing Contest

Sponsored by The English & Philosophy Department

$50 and $100 Cash Prizes Awarded at a Prestigious Awards Ceremony

Publication in MCC's Cabbages & Kings;

National Competition Prize Entry

ESSAYS, FICTION, & POETRY

Rice Award

A thesis-driven essay in any style, including research, argument, analysis, description, narrative, excluding literary analysis or literary explication (not to exceed 2000 words).

Langlois Award

A piece of short fiction (not to exceed 3000 words).

Cooney Award

An essay that analyzes/explicates one or more works of literature (not to exceed 2000 words).

Cloos-Susskind Award

A single poem (not to exceed 60 lines).

McMurry Award

A thesis-driven essay in philosophy (not to exceed 2000 words).

Rules and Applications available at the English Department Office (Brighton 5-532 or Damon 4225).

Materials are due no later than noon Monday, April 8, 2013.

If you have any questions, contact Professor Angélique Johnston at 292-3270 or ajohnston@monroec.edu.

English/Philosophy Department Writing Contest Rules

Monroe Community College and the English/Philosophy Department would like to showcase our student's best essays, poems, and short fiction. Please enter the 42nd Annual English/Philosophy Writing Contest. Student winners are named in May and invited to an awards reception with their professors and include recognition, a monetary award, and a chance to qualify for a national competition with the League of Innovation for Community Colleges.

Essays may be submitted in the following categories:

~ Rice Award for best essay: A thesis-driven essay in any style, including research, argument, analysis, description, narrative, excluding literary analysis or literary explication (not to exceed 2000 words).

~ Cooney Award for best literary essay: An essay that analyzes/explicates one or more works of literature (not to exceed 2000 words).

~ Cloos-Susskind Award for best poem: A single poem (not to exceed 60 lines).

~ Langlois Award for best short fiction: A piece of short fiction (not to exceed 3000 words).

~ McMurry Award for best philosophical essay: A thesis-driven essay in philosophy (not to exceed 2000 words).

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

~ The department is currently accepting submissions with a submission deadline of: 12:00 p.m., Monday, April 8, 2013.

~ Only Fall 2012 or Spring 2013 "for credit" MCC students may enter.

~ All submissions must be submitted by hard copy and must be accompanied by the English/Philosophy Department Writing Contest Entry Form, which you can find attached or in the English Department Offices (Brighton 5-532 or Damon 4225).

~ Each manuscript and completed entry form must be left in 5-532 with Tina Morrill on the MCC Brighton Campus or in Room 4225 with Anne Kirkpatrick on the Damon City Campus.

~ Winners only will be asked for a digital version and an additional League entry form to be entered into the national contest.

~ All submissions must be typed, double spaced, on 8 ½ by 11 paper. Work should be submitted free of the writer's or professor's name identifying the entry, free of markings, and free of grammatical and mechanical errors.

~ Winners will be announced early May 2013.

~ Materials submitted must be original and previously unpublished in any college publications.

If you have any questions, please contact Professor Angelique Johnston at ajohnston@monroecc.edu.