

Focus on Using Data for Continuous Improvement in Community Colleges

- Project Highlights. Grossmont-Cuyamaca Community College District leads with data using the Cal-PASS system to improve instruction and increase student success.
- Thoughtful Topics. Jeffrey Seybert of the National Higher Education Benchmarking Institute promotes Creating and Working Within a Culture of Evidence.
- Partner Spotlight. Susan Hatfield, assessment director at Winona State University, presents a 14 point process for Assessing Your Program-Level Assessment Plan.
- eLearning. Today's topics in Parenting created by Arundel Community College, and a full Paralegal Program from CO Community Colleges Online, are available as free online courses or offered as special rates for iStream subscribers.
- Innovative Educators. Empowering Developmental Student Success, The Power of Peer Mentorship, and many more informative webinars on professional development resources and training services are available with free seating for iStream subscribers.
- TLT Webinars, Dangerous Discussions, and Flashlight. TLT Group offers practical and thought-provoking workshops, including Twitter.edu: Twitter in Higher Education and A Free Online Resource to Solve Common Teaching Problems—with limited free seats for iStream subscribers.
- Ten Questions. Brad Phillips, Executive Director, Cal-PASS, describes the Cal-PASS data sharing program and its impact on teaching and learning.

Log on to iStream for new content, new updates, and new ideas.
(<http://istream.league.org>)