Transfer Scholarship Information

Scholarship assistance for transfer graduates is available at many four-year colleges and universities. Over the years, Monroe Community College graduates have received academic scholarships in excess of a half-million dollars. The awards usually provide for partial tuition assistance, although full tuition scholarships may also be granted.

While documented financial need frequently is a criterion for maximum awards, early contact with the transfer college is most important.

This guide provides a partial listing of the four-year colleges offering transfer scholarships. For additional information regarding these awards and other transfer scholarship options, contact the specific four-year college Financial Aid or Admissions Office.

Please note: All efforts are made to ensure that the information included in this guide is accurate. However, the information is subject to change. Please check with the four-year college or university for the most up-to-date scholarship material.

Financial Need:

Various merit-based, need-based, and combined merit and need-based scholarships are available at four-year colleges. In most instances, an applicant is required to complete a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). This form is accessible at www.fafsa.ed.gov.

Deadline Dates

Deadline dates for scholarship consideration may vary. Early inquiry and application to the four-year college are recommended.

Specialized Awards

In addition to traditional transfer scholarships, specialized scholarships are frequently available. These scholarships are limited to specific major fields of study (e.g. education, business, engineering, liberal arts majors, etc.) or specific student populations.

For additional information regarding these awards and other transfer scholarship options, contact the specific four-year college you are interested in attending. Scholarship information is most often located on the four-year college's financial aid or admissions webpage.

Private Scholarship Search Tips

It is never too early to begin your scholarship search. Scholarships and grants often require letters of recommendation, transcripts, essays, etc. This may mean getting to know your professors for those letters of recommendations and/or require you to prepare by writing a few goal-oriented essays in advance. Pay special attention to deadlines.

Applying for scholarships and grants does not cost you anything beyond your time and the cost of postage. If you are seeking financial assistance to complete your education you should apply to as many scholarships and grants as you can without impacting the quality of your applications.

- File a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) every year
- The FAFSA website includes filing dates and other important information
- Most colleges and universities utilize FAFSA information to determine additional aid and scholarships you may be eligible for as a transfer student
- You have the right to accept or decline financial aid

The Directors of the Visual and Performing Arts programs award scholarships to students in their respective programs. While some scholarships are awarded on the basis of merit only, others require documentation of financial need as well. To be considered for scholarships based on financial need you must complete a FAFSA, no later than February 1st. Please check with your division for specific scholarship information. International Student Scholarships are also available.
