HOMELAND SECURITY MANAGEMENT INSTITUTE
A MONROE COMMUNITY COLLEGE INITIATIVE

THE NEED IS REAL.

THE SOLUTION IS CLEAR.

Since 9/11, it has become apparent that businesses, governments, and even private citizens must be on guard against—and be prepared to respond to—possible acts of terrorism or unseen threats. No community, neighborhood, or individual is exempt from this reality.

The Homeland Security Management Institute (HSMI) is dedicated to this core belief: through proper training we can and will prevail. Our mission is to provide best-in-class, cost-effective training to first responders, public officials, businesspeople, safety professionals, health-care providers, and all citizens who may play a role in an emergency. Training that not only minimizes risk but also provides critical knowledge of response, prevention, and operational management.

EVERYTHING IT TAKES TO GET THE JOB DONE.

To fulfill our training mission, HSMI responds to your specific training requirements in a needs-based fashion. After careful consultation with you, we develop a custom, cost-effective solution and then deliver it through a combination of instructor-led classroom teaching, mobile training, lab and field instruction, and/or online teaching. We can also provide consulting services on virtually any homeland security training issue.

To achieve these goals, we draw upon an impressive resource base. As part of Monroe Community College, we utilize the staff, resources, and capacities of one of the best community colleges in North America. We have full access to the premier hands-on training labs of the Monroe County Public Safety Training Facility. And, through our strategic alliances, we can tap into the resources of other educational institutions, government agencies, and private industry.

After you've examined our credentials, including those of our experienced instructors, we think you'll agree that HSMI has the ability, credibility, and community partnerships to make your homeland security initiative successful for you and your stakeholders.

The HSMI Advisory Committee includes representatives of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, the U.S. Customs Service, the Transportation Security Administration, the Center for Bio-Warfare of the University of Rochester, ASIS International, and other key stakeholders in homeland security.

YOUR BEST SOURCE FOR HOMELAND
SECURITY TRAINING

There are many companies today that provide homeland security training. A few are quite good. But we believe none can match the combination of expertise, resource depth, and cost-effectiveness of the Homeland Security Management Institute.

STATE-OF-THE-ART TRAINING FACILITY.

Much of the training we provide is conducted at the Monroe County Public Safety Training Facility (pictured above). This $26 million complex serves as the training center for all first responders in Monroe County and the City of Rochester. The facility features many specialized labs and classrooms, including a forensic evidence lab, hazardous materials sprinkler lab, TEAM/Tac simulator, interior fire search maze, three-story burn building, and Boeing 737 fire simulators. All of these, and more, are available to bring your training vividly to life. In fact, the facility was chosen over all others to prepare firefighters from Athens, Greece, for the 2004 Olympics. For bigger groups, the MCC campus offers auditorium-sized seminar training venues.

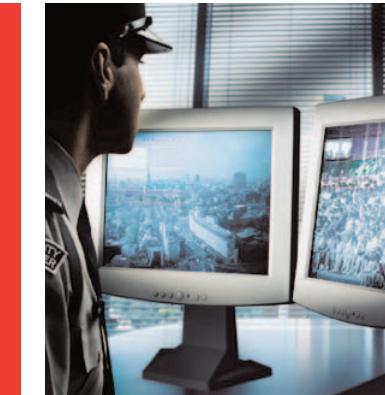

THE MONROE COMMUNITY COLLEGE ADVANTAGE.

Much of the reason why HSMI can deliver high-quality, cost-effective training is due to our connection to Monroe Community College. MCC has 30 years of public safety training experience, with instructors who are nationally recognized, real-life practitioners. And it has been cited as one of the most innovative community colleges in North America by the League for Innovation in the Community College. HSMI is your portal to all this expertise. What's more, because we are affiliated with a college, HSMI training awards portable, accredited credentials to all participants. Credentials that support career advancement and educational progression. MCC features on-site lodging, parking, classroom space, and food service.

WE DELIVER THE HIGHEST QUALITY TRAINING FOR LESS.
HERE'S HOW.

Unlike private trainers who must invest from scratch in program development and hire expensive consultants, HSMI can tap deeply into preexisting resources through our affiliation with Monroe Community College and its Public Safety Training Facility.

SO MUCH
CAN HAPPEN.

HSMI HELPS YOU PREPARE FOR IT ALL.

Providing effective homeland security is a complex, multifaceted challenge. There are many aspects to each potential situation that must be considered, and the training required for different officials, professionals, and safety personnel varies considerably. At HSMI, we're committed to meeting all your needs through a comprehensive range of training topics targeted to all appropriate persons. Some of the courses are listed below. But please remember that a large part of the value we provide is in customized training.

- Leadership and management program
- Weapons of mass destruction
- Hazardous materials emergency response
- Computer security
- Planning for biological weapons (functional and full-scale exercises)
- Risk assessment
- Chemicals and toxin antidotes and treatment
- Bioterrorism (methods, agents, detection)

CITIZEN EMERGENCY RESPONSE TEAMS (CERT)

CERT volunteers provide basic community support in an emergency, allowing police, fire, and EMS professionals to focus on more complex tasks following a catastrophic natural disaster or terrorist attack. The training prepares participants to save lives and protect property at three levels: for themselves and their families, for their neighbors or work sites, and for the community. HSMI CERT training incorporates all the latest advances in theory and practice.

GROWING ONLINE COURSE OFFERINGS

For many people requiring training, online learning is a flexible, cost-effective learning method. Though study is pursued individually, many online courses are facilitated by instructors so questions can be answered and student progress monitored. Whether your needs require traditional classroom instruction, online learning, or mobile training teams, HSMI is committed to providing you the best in homeland security training.

RESOURCE BROKERAGE

If you need access to a facility to host your training exercise, seminar, or conference, HSMI would be happy to arrange it for you and, if desired, assist in logistics. We have a large number of venues from which to choose, including some that can accommodate hundreds of people.
