

Spring 2018
Selected Topics in Psychology:
Multicultural Psychology (Online)
PSY 270-SL1
CRN (31565)

Course Description:

Multicultural psychology examines human behavior as it occurs in culturally heterogeneous settings. This online course will introduce students to theoretical and practical approaches used to examine the impact of culture on various psychological processes. This course will use discussions, readings, videos, and various online activities to foster an understanding of human experiences in multicultural contexts. Topics will include culture, identity, gender, stereotyping and prejudice, religion and spirituality, family, and mental health.

3 Credits

Prerequisites: PSY 101 or permission of instructor

For more information contact:

Renée Coleman
rcoleman25@monroecc.edu