International Business A.S.

GET READY TO DO BUSINESS IN THE GLOBAL ECONOMY. Want to sell athletic apparel in San Paolo? Or manufacture medical technology in Malaysia? With an A.S. in International Business from MCC, you’ll build the skills you need to do business all over the world. In addition to learning the fundamentals of business operations, you’ll study foreign languages and cultures to gain an understanding of overseas markets. The program also covers worldwide economic and political issues that influence global business. Our associate degree in international business can be your passport to success—and the first step toward a four-year degree.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION
MCC’s two-year international business degree satisfies the first half of most four-year college or university degrees in business, international business, marketing, economics, finance, and related areas. You’ll take introductory courses in accounting, business, and economics while establishing a strong foundation in math, foreign languages, global cultures, and international politics and trade relationships. This degree is an excellent choice for students who are considering careers in international business, commerce, or diplomacy.
