

The Monroe Community College Institute for The Humanities Presents

Rochester Remembers the 1960s: The LEGACY of SOCIAL JUSTICE ACTIVISM

A Retrospective on The Movements, Moments, and Conditions That Defined Our City and The Nation

MCC's Downtown Campus: 321 State Street

Oct. 12, 6:00 – 8:30 P.M.

A screening of Carvin Eison's documentary on the 1964 "Race Riots" in Rochester, July '64
—and post-show community dialogue with the filmmaker

Oct. 13, 9:30 – 1:30 P.M.

Photo exhibit featuring critical moments in 1960s Rochester Social Justice Activism

Keynote Address: Dr. Marvin McMickle, President of Colgate Rochester Crozer Divinity School

Engaging and interactive presentations and discussions on the decade that shaped the nation

Speakers include Daniel Borus (University of Rochester), Tokeya Graham (MCC), Shawn Dunwoody (Artist), Carmelo Ortiz (Memorial Art Gallery), Joe Scanlon (MCC), and Rochester City Youth

This program is free and open to the public, but requires registration: <http://www.monroecc.edu/go/remember>

For more details, visit us at www.facebook.com/humanitiesMCC/

Made possible by grants from Humanities New York and the MCC Foundation.
Any views, findings, conclusions, or recommendations expressed in this program
do not necessarily represent those of the National Endowment for the Humanities

Monroe
Community College
STATE UNIVERSITY
OF NEW YORK

HUMANITIES
NEW YORK