Dear Valued Members of AAWCC,

Since the inception of our AAWCC-MCC Chapter, over 25 years ago, this chapter has reflected the strength, the innovation and empowerment of our membership. Our chapter has strived to provide many different opportunities for members to engage with, to learn from and to develop alongside one another.

As we approach the start of the Fall semester, continuing with our remote work and distance learning, we wish to offer relevant and accessible programming that strengthens us as individuals and collectively as a group. I would like to remind everyone that the changes and uncertainty that we all face allows us many creative opportunities and the ability to further our mission to provide continued growth for women in Community Colleges.

I am also happy to share that in light of the many financial challenges brought on by the Covid-19 pandemic, our Chapter will offer all renewing members another year of membership at no cost to you. We will be paying the national membership fee for all renewing members and will provide a discounted $10 all-inclusive membership price to new members and retirees. *Additional discounts will also be offered to our student members.

In closing, the MCC-Chapter of AAWCC continues to be a leader in supporting, educating, developing, and changing womens' lives. Continue to stay safe, strong and strive to find the bright light to guide you through these challenges and opportunities. Remember the simple gestures are often most meaningful, so remember to smile, to laugh, and to share positivity with those around you. Something that brightens your day is probably something that will lighten someone else's day a little too...

Sincerely,

Susan Noonan
