Patricia E. Clark, Ph.D., will focus on the uses, abuses and cultural appropriations of the N-word and other contestable language and stereotypes in U.S. culture from the 19th century to the present day. Dr. Clark is an associate professor of English and African and African-American Studies at the State University of New York at Oswego. She teaches 20th and 21st century African-American and U.S. literature and culture.
