

In celebration of the legacy of Martin Luther King, Jr., please join us in welcoming ESPN sports analyst and former Duke University Blue Devils and Chicago Bulls star...

JAY WILLIAMS

Wednesday, February 13, 2019

6:30 p.m.

MCC Brighton Campus

Robin & Tim Wentworth Arts Building

Theatre, Bldg. 4 | Parking in Lot F

$5 for MCC Students, Faculty and Staff with valid MCC ID

$10 General Public

Tickets are available at www.monroecctickets.com, the Brighton Campus Service Desk and Downtown Campus Bookstore.***

**Patrons with special needs please call 585-292-2534 by Monday, February 4, 2019.*

ESPN Analyst and Bestselling Author Jay Williams is considered one of the most prolific college basketball players in history. The #2 pick in the 2002 NBA Draft, Williams is an analyst on College GameDay and a regular commentator on ESPN and ESPN2's weeknight studio coverage.

Following a motorcycle accident in 2003, Williams was forced to retire from basketball after just one season with the Chicago Bulls. Rather than letting the near-fatal accident destroy his future, Williams parlayed his experience on the court into a successful career in broadcasting and business. Drawing from his time in recovery and building his brand, Williams has established himself as a premier keynote motivational speaker for various executive business conferences and charitable organizations nationwide.

His best-selling memoir, Life is Not an Accident: A Memoir of Reinvention, focuses on the life-altering depression and ultimate healing that Williams underwent in the aftermath of his accident. The 2018 documentary web-series, Best Shot, follows Williams as he mentors high school basketball players from Newark's Central High School.

For more information please contact Henry Brown at Hbrown2@monroecc.edu, or by calling 585.292.2567.

Sponsored by the MCC Diversity, Equity & Inclusion Committee, Office of Student Life & Leadership Development, Black Student Union, Academic Services, Admissions, Athletic Department and MCC Bookstore.

Monroe Community College
STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK