

Amina Gautier: Fiction Writer

Amina Gautier is a successful scholar, professor, and fiction writer. Her critical writing has appeared in American Review, Belles Lettres, Daedalus, Journal of American History, Libraries and Culture, Nineteenth Century Contexts, and Whitman Noir. She is also the author of three award-winning short story collections: The Loss of All Lost Things, which won the Elixir Press Award in Fiction, Now We Will Be Happy, which won the Prairie Schooner Book Prize, the USA Best Book Award in African American Fiction a Florida Authors and Publishers Association Award Gold Medal in Short Fiction, and was Long-listed for The Chautauqua Prize in Fiction, and At-Risk, which won the Flannery O'Connor Award for Short Fiction, and received an Eric Hoffer Legacy Award and a First Horizon Award. For a full list of Gautier's publications and awards, visit: <https://aminagautier.wordpress.com/bio/>.

Friday, November 13, 2020

11-11:50 a.m.

Hosted by M. Brandt

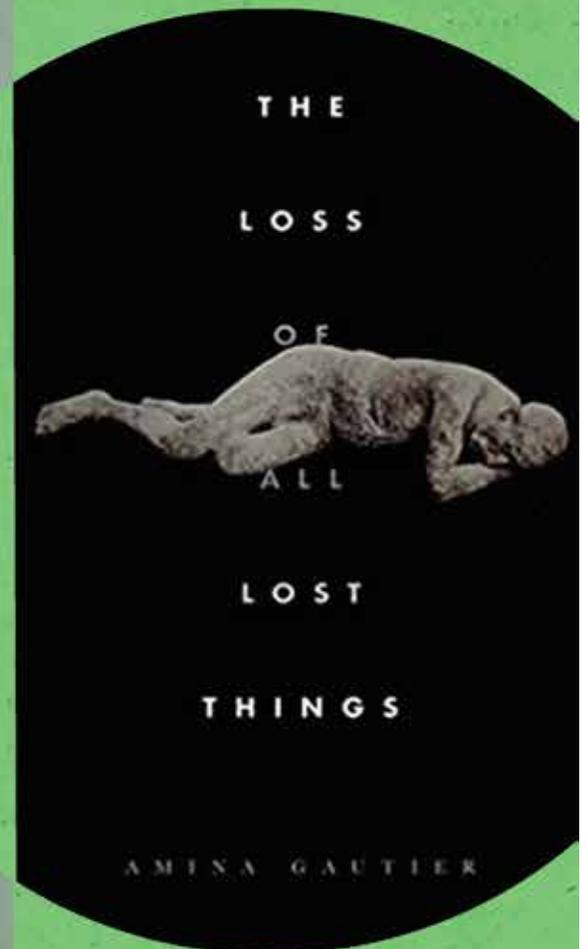

Reading links, available from 8/26-12/21:

https://ensemble.itec.suny.edu/Watch/MCC_CreativeArts_AminaGautier_LostAndFound

https://ensemble.itec.suny.edu/Watch/MCC_CreativeArts_AminaGautier_TheLossOfAllLostThings

To participate in workshop:

contact Maria Brandt at mbrandt@monroec.edu.

Creative Arts

MONROE COMMUNITY COLLEGE