

BRIGHTON LEARNING COMMUNITIES FALL 2018

Learning communities encourage integration of learning across courses and involve students with “big questions” that matter beyond the classroom. Students take two or more linked courses as a group and work closely with one another and with their professors. Many learning communities explore a common topic and/or common readings through the lenses of different disciplines. George D. Kuh High-Impact Educational Practices: What They Are, Who Has Access to Them, and Why They Matter (AAC&U, 2008). Learning community students report a greater sense of connection to their professors and peers than their non-learning community counterparts do.
