

The Sociology Film Series At DCC Presents

THE YOUNGEST CANDIDATE

Film-maker, Jason Pollock, will show a screening of his feature-length documentary. The Youngest Candidate follows the story of four teens that ran for public office in America. Funny, inspiring, poignant, and ultimately uplifting, it is the coming of age story of four idealistic young adults who dared to confront the corrupt political systems in America. Through their journey these young candidates learn about fair play, leadership development, racism in politics, the importance of family, and many other lessons that they will carry with them throughout their lives. In the face of great adversity, these four young adults braved all the odds to make it to Election Day to show that regardless of the outcome, it didn't matter... It's all about how you play the game.

Thursday, March 5th
4-7pm

DCC Room 4151

This event is free and open to the public.

Light refreshments will be served.

Sponsored by: the Anthropology/History/Political Science/Sociology Department, the Visual & Performing Arts Department, the office of the Dean of Liberal Arts, the DCC Campus Center & S.E.G.A.

For Information:

Christine Plumeri, cplumeri@monroecc.edu, 262-1768

Bethany Gizzi, bgizzi@monroecc.edu, 292-3284

Check out the movie trailer:

www.theyoungestcandidate.com