to attend a presentation by Mexican writer, director, producer Ricardo Arnaiz

Monday, October 28 - 12:00 - 1:00

Room 5-323

Born in Monterrey, Nuevo León; Mexico, in 1974, Ricardo Arnaiz graduated from the Universidad Iberoamericana GC (Puebla Mexico) with a degree in Graphic Design. Arnaiz founded his own Animation Company in Puebla Mexico in 2000, ANIMEX PRODUCTIONS. He has created and directed more than 8 pilots. His film “The Legend of the Nahuala” was awarded with the Diosa de Plata and Ariel in 2008. The film “Nikte” (2009) earned 3 nominations for the Diosa de Plata Award. In 2010 he wrote and co-produced the successful “The Legend of the Crying Lady” for Anima Estudios, the sequel of his first film. He produced “The Revolution of Juan Escopeta”, and received an Ariel Award for Best Animated Movie, making Animex the only animation studio in Mexico to have 2 of these prestigious Academy Awards. Arnaiz is co-producing 3 animated films “El Americano: The Movie”, “Team K-9” and “The 3 Mariachis”, as well as his first live-action film “A World Upside-Down”.
