

MCC'S INNOVATION OF THE YEAR AWARD

CRITERIA

An innovation should meet one or more of the following criteria:

1. Quality—Students and/or staff agree that the innovation increases “quality” in the course, program, office, or institution. Evidence of quality may include student ratings or letters of support from colleagues. “Quality” is difficult to measure, but the committees might want to wrestle with criteria that define quality in their colleagues.
2. Efficiency—There is evidence that the innovation contributes to a more efficient way of doing things. Student ratings, perceptions of outside consultants, and pre- and post-comparison of time involved are examples of evidence.
3. Cost Effectiveness—There is evidence that the innovation adds a value to the institution while at the same time containing or reducing costs. Cost data will serve as evidence.
4. Replication—The innovation selected can be replicated in other institutions with a minimum of difficulty.
5. Creativity—The innovation should be as original as possible or the adaptation should be creative. The description of the program or letters from experts are examples of evidence.
6. Timeliness—The innovation should not be more than five years old in the institution, but it must have been around long enough to have been tested so that it meets most of the criteria.

Each of the League members will announce the Innovation of the Year Program. It is recommended that each League member create a committee to establish criteria and select the award winner. Applications should be encouraged from all areas of the college: instructors (including part-time), administrators, and support personnel; the range of participation is to be determined by each college.

ANNUAL INNOVATION OF THE YEAR AWARD 2009

Every year the League honors outstanding innovations which have been recognized by member institutions as Innovations of the Year. These innovations represent capstone achievements and the continuing renewal of the spirit of innovation and experimentation upon which the League was founded.

MCC'S INNOVATION OF THE YEAR AWARD

2009 RECIPIENTS THE SIXTH ACT

MARIA BRANDT, GAIL BOUK, JEFFERY JONES, CAREN PITA, PAUL D'ALESSANDRIS, HEATHER FOX, JIM SIMMONDS, MIDGE MARSHALL, ANN TIPPETT, AND ROBERT KASHMER

The Sixth Act aims to broaden and deepen an interdisciplinary appreciation of drama at MCC and to connect MCC faculty, staff, and students with events in Rochester's theatre community. It seeks as its leaders faculty, staff, and students drawn from a variety of academic disciplines and departments. The Sixth Act is driven by a diverse and committed group of faculty and students-with objectives to: (1) to provide MCC theatre and non-theatre students regular, inspiring, challenging exposure to dramatic art, (2) to offer MCC faculty a variety of venues through which to cultivate their knowledge of dramatic art and bring this knowledge into a variety of classrooms across discipline, (3) to support and diversify MCC's growing theatre program, (4) to connect MCC students, faculty, and staff across disciplines and with Rochester's theatre community, (5) to fulfill and stimulate students and faculty members who work directly with Sixth Act programming.
