ON THE ROAD

In memory of Alan B. Shaw (1942-2002), Professor in the department of English/Philosophy, the Writing Center is pleased to host an essay award to honor Professor Shaw's commitment to teaching, writing, family, home, and his passion for travel.

Essays will be judged on creativity, richness of ideas, and effective use of Standard English.

WHO: Any currently enrolled student at Monroe Community College may enter the contest.

WHEN: Essays will be accepted until 4:45 p.m. on Friday, April 10, 2009. The winner will be announced by May 1, 2009.

WHERE: Essays may be delivered to the Writing Center (11-208) on the Brighton campus, or to the TRS Mastery Lab (4-262) at the Damon City Campus.

GUIDELINES:

- Entrants must be currently enrolled students at MCC.
- All submissions must be typed, double spaced, stapled, and free of grammatical and mechanical errors.
- All submissions must include a title page containing the author's name, M number, home address, phone number, and title of the essay.
- Essays submitted must be original and previously unpublished.
- Essays should not exceed 2,000 words.
- The winner will be honored in the English/Philosophy Literary Awards Ceremony at a date and time to be announced.
