

THE SOCIOLOGY FILM SERIES AT DCC and
THE DCC CAMPUS CENTER present
A VERY SPECIAL FILM EVENT

PATRIOT ACT:
A JEFFREY ROSS HOME MOVIE (2005)

"Patriot Act is a feature-length 'home video' that captures a rare and intimate look into the early days of the American occupation of Iraq through the eyes of stand-up comedian, Jeffrey Ross. Armed with nothing but some jokes and a camcorder, 'The Roastmaster General' shoots his own life-changing experience entertaining battle-weary G.I.s stationed in some of the most dangerous and remote parts of the Sunni Triangle. Inspired by the passing of USO perennial Bob Hope, Ross travels to Iraq along with six other comics (Kathy Kinney, Blake Clark, Kyle Dunnigan, Andres Fernandez and Rocky LaPorte) led by sitcom star and former Marine, Drew Carey. Along the way, this 'Iraq Pack' carries out a secret itinerary from base to base and meets thousands of American G.I.s. In light of all the bad news coming out of Iraq, this film offers a rare pat on the back to the men and women of the military who are braving their immense challenges with spirit and a sense of humor" (as quoted on the DVD jacket).

DATE: Fri., December 8, 2006
TIME: 12:00pm (view film with discussion to follow)
PLACE: Room #4151
Damon City Campus
MODERATOR: Christine Plumeri,
Sociology

Light refreshments will be served, so feel free to bring your lunch, too! As always, this event is free and open to the public. However, given the adult content of this film, no one under age 17 is allowed to attend. Faculty, please encourage student attendance – there is a laugh or two in this film for everyone!

Please direct any questions or comment to Christine Plumeri, A/H/P/S, x1768 or cplumeri@monroecc.edu.