

China: Globalization and Interdependence

Thursday, December 6th in room 4151, 12:30pm
at the Damon City Campus

In many ways China is both the embodiment and a unique example of globalization. Professor Nayda Pares-Kane will discuss the ways in which our relationship with China reveals the complexities of an interdependent world.

Sponsored by the Diversity and Community Studies Film and Lecture Series, the AHPS Department and the DCC Campus Center. Free and open to the public.