Teaching for Critical Thinking

Dr. Stephen Brookfield, author of “Teaching for Critical Thinking.”

Since beginning his teaching career in 1970, Stephen Brookfield has worked in England, Canada, Australia, and the United States, teaching in a variety of college settings. He has written, co-written or edited seventeen books on adult learning, teaching, critical thinking, discussion methods and critical theory, six of which have won the Cyril O. Houle World Award for Literature in Adult Education. His work has been translated into German, Korean, Finnish, Chinese, Japanese, Polish, Farsi, and Albanian. After 10 years as a Professor of Higher and Adult Education at Columbia University in New York, he now holds the John Ireland Endowed Chair at the University of St. Thomas in Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minnesota where he recently won the university's Diversity Leadership Teaching & Research Award and also the John Ireland Presidential Award for Outstanding Achievement as a Teacher/Scholar.

Immediately following Brookfield's presentation we will have breakout sessions. You'll have the opportunity to join others who teach similar skills or content to brainstorm and build useable strategies to engage critical thinking in your classroom. Sessions will be led by facilitators with experience in related disciplines and will be hands-on!
