

MEDIATION SETTLEMENT DAY

October 19, 2006

What do these snapshots of emotions tell you?

Attend Mediation Settlement Day to find out...

Monroe Community College

9:00 AM—2:00 PM

At the college atrium

Meet exhibitors who will describe their mediation services, programs, community peace initiatives and resources.

Listen to scheduled speakers who will talk about civility, importance of conflict resolution in the community, at home, school and at work.

And then...

5:30 PM—7:30 PM

At MCC's Lecture Hall

Observe a Mock Mediation demonstrating the mediation process.

Participate in a facilitated discussion about how mediation can help address local, contemporary issues and prevent acts of violence.

The inaugural Mediation Settlement Day in 2001 took place in the wake of September 11 and provided a way for mediators, community leaders and educators to contribute to the healing of New York City.

New York Governor George E. Pataki issued a first-ever proclamation in support of Mediation Settlement Day. This is now an annual event celebrated throughout New York and nationally.

MCC is proud to host Rochester's 6th annual commemoration!

Designated parking is Lot M and M1. For more information about the agenda and scheduled keynote speakers, please contact Maureen Erickson, MCC (585) 292-2564
