TCC Teaching Resources in the Library

The TCC owns a number of texts and periodicals about teaching and learning that are available for your use! We are currently organizing and cataloging these for the Damon (and Brighton) library. Watch for them in Spring '06!

TCC Room upgrade

Thanks to an internal grant, we are in the process of upgrading room 5091 to create a comfortable center for meetings, small programs and some teaching materials. Watch for an open house, and think about this room for future meetings.

MONROE COMMUNITY COLLEGE DAMON CAMPUS

VOLUME 1, ISSUE 1

What is the TCC?

You may or may not have heard about the Teaching and Creativity Center at MCC. Even if the term is familiar, do you know what the TCC is really all about? The TCC is a college wide initiative that functions on several levels. On the broadest level the TCC serves as a center for professional development for faculty and staff at the college. The TCC coordinates the New Faculty Orientation program for faculty in their first 2 years of service and also coordinates campus specific programming for all faculty and staff to address ideas about teaching and learning. There are individual committees on both the Damon Campus and the Brighton Campus that plan activities for each campus. The TCC also has physical space with resources for faculty use; at Damon the TCC is being developed in room 5091, at Brighton it is on the 3rd floor of the library. Finally, there is also a TCC website that offers links to resources and additional information about activities and events. Visit the site sometime at www.monroecc.edu/go/TCC (or use the A-Z index and click on T). If you have an interest in continuing your own professional development as well as that of your colleagues, join the TCC!

Man's mind, once stretched by a new idea, never regains its original dimensions.
