Read&Write and EquatIO

Read&Write

Read&Write is a text-to-speech software that can be used for:

- Reading online content and documents.
- Proofreading and converting documents into MP3 files for listening
- Built in advance spell checker and word prediction tool
- Screen masking capability to help with concentration
- Scanning paper copies into a digital file (if a scanner is connected)
- Talk to type feature
- Built-in highlighter for reading

For additional information, please watch the Read&Write YouTube video.

EquatIO

EquatIO is a math accessibility software that can be used for:

- Making math digital
- Create mathematical equations, formula and quizzes
- Dictate formula aloud and it will type it

For additional information, please watch the EquatIO YouTube video.

How Do I Download Read&Write and EquatIO for free?

1. To install Read&Write and EquatIO, go to the Texthelp Deployment Wizard website.
2. Select "YES, I have a product code." Enter your Product Code: GEALQ7WY.
3. Select what program you want to download and what platform(s) you wish to install theproduct.
   a. Note: You can download programs on a computer, laptop, iPad, tablet and the products can be used with the Google Chrome Extension.
   b. If you are only looking to download the math accessibility tool, select EquatIO only.
4. For the license type, select "Unlimited" licenses and click continue.
5. For Authentication, select "Office 365."
6. You will now be able to download the product. Click on the necessary links (Download forWindows, etc.).

You do not need to create a username or password with Read&Write or EquatIO. If you are promoted to login, enter your MCC email and password.

Questions?

Contact the Counseling Center and Disability Services office via email or phone at (585) 292-2140 if you have any questions.