

MCC Interim President Job Description

The interim president of Monroe Community College enters a dynamic educational institution that is challenged in the areas of enrollment, graduation, workforce development and online teaching. There is an expectation of working well with unions, having a strong financial background, and establishing good relationships with the Rochester community.

Communication skills are very important at all levels of the institution. It is essential that the interim president be able to speak with members of the college community about pressing problems, working through a compromise that supports the College as well as shared governance.

The interim president will also have to engage with the Monroe County Legislature, especially concerning the budget, work with SUNY, meet with MCC Foundation donors, attend important College functions. The interim president will be the face of MCC in the community.

It is essential to communicate with the Board of Trustees, keeping the trustees informed about what is happening at the College as well as helping to arrange workshops for the trustees on subjects important to the Board's policy role.

We expect that the interim president will have an excellent understanding of the position of community colleges in contemporary education and have skills to meet the many challenges that confront community colleges in today's society.
